Summary for Week 6

During this week, we were preparing to finish the project since we have many other group projects to do while doing this one. We are about 90% done, all we have to do is test the program many times to see if there are any bugs that we might have missed. We also have to do the finishing touches on both HTML and PHP part including the database as well. We are just almost done the project, and we will be finished before the next reporting period. The only problem we have during this week was what to do next. We finish what we had to do during each day but we had some moments where some members finished their work too quickly and didn't know what to do afterwards. This lead to some unproductiveness to the group project because the others member themselves are busy doing their part and not responding to the finished group member; a case like this was Toan was done and didn't know what to do so he asked in the group chat, no one answered him for a long time so all he did was nothing during that time.
